The following letter from the Superintendent of the Maine Telegraph Company, is another proof of the superiority of JOHN E. WILDER'S Safes over all others:

Boston, Oct. 24, 1849.

John E. Wilder, Esq.—

Dear Sir—The Safe I purchased of you was exposed to a great fire in the night of the 19th inst., at the building occupied by the Telegraph Office in this city, and remained in the flames about 12 hours; the heat was so great as to melt the iron doors of the Safe, very nearly, although it fell from the second story to the basement of the building. I find the contents in a very good condition, and I am happy to say, entirely uninjured. It is a fine proof of your Safe.

Respectfully yours, JAS. REDDY,

Superintendent Maine Telegraph Co.

Railroad Meeting.

The citizens of Bangor are notified, by the Committee recently appointed to procure the enactment of a law authorizing the city of Bangor to loan her credit in aid of the construction of a railroad from Bangor to Waterville, to assemble at the City Hall on this evening for the purpose of hearing the report of the Committee and to take such action thereon as may be deemed expedient.

Bangor has been very shabbily treated by the legislature, and the instrument in its use ob-Senators from this county, who have been made the tools' pawn to do the work of others, and prominently in this stands Senator Fish. Such treatment under the circumstances is calculated to arouse the feeling of the people, and it is particularly so in the present case. Bangor feels the need of railroad communication with the railroad world; she feels the need of extending her trade; she feels the need of the immediate which this railroad would give to her business and prospects; she hankers after other cities and towns accommodated with the right to employ a portion of their public credit in connection with their private means, to construct railroads, she had opened before her the assurance that by granting the use of her credit upon terms entirely practicable and with safety to the city, she could secure the construction of a railroad. Ought it not to be expected then that she should feel indignant — that she has just cause to feel so, — when the door which was opened so gracefully to Portland, Augusta, Bath, Gardiner, Hallowell and other towns, has been slammed in her face, and by the same hands that opened it to Portland? And Bangor has been thus treated not from any dislike to her, but from any original sin, not upon the merits of the case, but merely to hold her back, to tie her in her course and cripple her enterprise, until other towns have acquired breath and strength to compete with her in the field of facilities. Bangor takes no such guardianship. Bangor will not the appearance of force to make her stay before Hiddle to other places which have a rivalry with her.

What the citizens of Bangor ought to do under these circumstances can be better determined after hearing the report of the committee and listening to their suggestions. That report is to be made this evening, and we have no doubt that a meeting will be fully attended, and that a final action will be worthy the fame of its citizens.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

Houlton Election.

The first act in the good time is to Rum, Democracy and Whiggery, with a dash of moral suasion 1-16, and a sanctimonious and pure Whiggery 17-18 temperance, rumrelationism, the Maine Law and its enforcement viz. Col. Hodgdon, supported by the amalgamation first named, was elected Moderator. The old Board of Selectmen, Messrs. Packard, Baily and Watson, having proved faithful the past year, were re-elected by the same coal majority, and by about the same majority but with a diminished vote of all the tickets, some having adjourned to celebrate their victory, or to recollect their defeat. Probably, party prejudice, political influence, and other extraneous causes, have increased the sum and anti-law vote, yet, perhaps in no town has the temperance and law question been more fairly presented and more understandingly voted on. Houlton still claims to be the Banner town for rum. Who disputes her claim?

The victors profess to be satisfied with the result. The anti-rum Whigs can reply to the jests of the majority with the significant inquiry, where will your party be next September?

The Rumroads declare they have done as well or better than they expected; and the Rumsellers can point the moral of their victory in the joyous exclamation of their brethren of Paddy Hollow: we can sell as much Rum now!

The ice has come down the river from Oldtown, and is now in Trott's Falls, and that in the river here is gradually wasting away, and will soon leave and give us a free navigation once more. The ice has remained nearly a month longer than some years.

The ship Vanilla sailed from Calais with a flour cargo for San Francisco, but the leaky portion of her passengers and crew were taken off at Norway and the vessel put in to Boston.

Smith is now reported in Boston until next week. A number of our citizens have gone or are expecting to meet him in Boston to-morrow.

The Gardiner Home says the names of eight towns in Maine in favor of the Liquor Law by the last election; — comprising towns repealed, and six towns by a small majority.

Six passengers on the steamer Ohio were drowned at the anchorage off Chagres. Two of them were ladies.

There is a great feud in the Western States.

A New Mineral.—Prof. Isaac Lea, of Philadelphia, has discovered, some time since, in one of his geological surveys, a large deposit of tetanite mineral, which is applicable in the manufacture of copper. This mineral has the quality, both in its natural state and when calcined, of imparting a fine purple color to glass. It is also applied to the purpose of painting on porcelain. Specimens of the mineral have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution from the north-west, and it is said that large deposits exist in that region. The discovery is considered a very important one, as the mineral is found in large quantities, and can be procured at little expense.

THIS Company has been in operation nearly seven years, and has now at risk about $2,000,000, with a Capital Stock of $200,000. The rates of insurance have been so modified as to range from one to fifty per cent; thus affording all the advantages, with none of the disadvantages, of chartered Companies. Owing to this equitable adjustment of its Tariff of Rates, this Company holds out the strongest inducements to those who wish effect insurance on Farm and Mercantile risks. The Directors have determined not to continue an extensive insurance of the extra hazardous class of property. We can say, therefore, with the utmost confidence, that no Company in the country is stronger premium than this. Applications for insurance, on all kinds of property, or loss in any manner, can be made to the Secretary, or through an authorized Agent, which will be taken at the lowest rate rate for that class of property, and for any term of time not exceeding four years.
